100% MANUFACTURED VS ASSEMBLED

-> Manufacturing is a process of converting raw material in to finished product by using various processes, machines and energy.

-> Assembling/Production is a manufacturing process of converting inputs into outputs. It is basically the process of making something by combining various resources outsourced by other manufacturers.

Why this matters?

Because when you outsource manufacturing it is hard to control the quality. Even though you might have a great production line and process you are still dependent on the quality of the various manufacturers outsourced for specific parts. By making/manufacturing every piece of our cooking equipment, Venancio can assure that the quality on our equipment is one of the best in the industry. This also gives us the ability to quickly and easily improve our equipment and all of its components.
