Strata Display & Carving Boards: A New Generation

Same Durability With a New Look & Better Price

Introducing a NEW generation of display and carving boards for Strata, the ingenious buffet and display system. They replace the original display and carving boards, which have been discontinued.

With an average price reduction of 13.2%, you get the same durability and a new, more on-trend look with Corian's Everest speckled pattern, a best seller.

These new display and carving boards are made more sanitary and durable than most on the market. Corian material allows you to simply sand down knife marks where harmful bacteria can grow to keep your boards clean and looking new.

These boards are designed to work in tandem with the Strata carving station and are sold separately or as kits with deck units and protective covers.

Applications

The large rectangular board is ideal for mouthwatering, guest-facing carving or display stations with large roasts like turkey, ham and roast beef.

The small round board is favored as an action station for freshly cut cheeses straight from the wheel. It can also accommodate modestly sized roasts like small hams, game birds, pork loins and more.

Reasons to Love:

- 13.2% average price reduction for these new carving boards
- New look with Corian's best-selling speckled pattern, Everest
- Made from sanitary Corian: Sand down knife marks to keep boards clean and looking new
- Meets full range of guest-facing display and carving applications ranging from large roasts to freshly cut cheeses
- Operationally durable for the best in-service life
- Built-in refuse slots keep work stations clean and double as handles during transport
- Available individually or as a set with a deck unit and protective cover
- Part of the Strata collection, the ingenious buffet and display system
- Stocked and available for immediate shipping and sampling
